6. Reflect evaluatively upon the following interpretation of ἐκλεκτῆ κυρία καὶ τοῖς τέκνοις αὐτῆς:
"The epistle is addressed to a devout lady named Kyria, who resided in one of the cities near Ephesus with a grown-up family...It is probable that, like that of Nymphas at Colossae, her house was the meeting-place of the Church, according to the custom of those days when there were no ecclesiastical edifices; and it appears from verse 10 that she afforded hospitality to the itinerant evangelists of whom the Third Epistle speaks. A sister of Kyria, presumably deceased, had a family resident at Ephesus and connected with St. John's congregation; and several of Kyria's sons had visited their cousins. The Apostle had met with them and found them earnest Christians, and in the glances of his heart he wrote to their mother, testifying his gratification, giving some kindly counsel very needful in those days of intellectual unrest, and expressing the hope that he might ere long visit her." (David Smith, "The Epistles of John," in The Expositor's Greek Testament, reprint edition, 1967)

Translate 2 John 1-7 (122 answers):

The elder, to the chosen Lady and her children, whom I love in truth and not only I but also all those who know the Truth, for the sake of the Truth that remains among you and will be with us forever. Grace, mercy, peace will be with us from God the Father and from Jesus Christ the Son of the Father in Truth and love.

I give thanks constantly because I have found of your children those walking in truth just as we received commandment from the Father. And now I ask you, Lady, not as though writing a new commandment but one which we have had from the beginning, that we love one another. And this is love: that we walk accord to his commandments; this commandment is, just as you have heard from the beginning, that we walk in it. For many deceivers have gone out into the world who do not confess Jesus Christ as the one coming in the flesh. This one is the deceiver and the Anti-Christ.
